

CAPITAL SMART SET AT NAVY GRADUATION

Washington's Social Center
Shifts to Annapolis for June
Week.

Washington's social center of gravity shifted last week to the quiet little town of Annapolis, where the June week festivities in honor of the graduates of the Naval Academy were brought to a close Friday evening by the farewell ball given by the class of 1915. In addition to a large contingent of distinguished army and navy folk, society from many cities was represented and the visitor from Washington was surrounded by a host of familiar faces.

The function was held in the armory, which was gay with the flags of all nations, save the warring countries, whose emblems were conspicuous by their absence. Borrowed from the practice squadron at anchor in the harbor, the upper half of the walls was entirely covered by bunting and one enormous American flag draped the entire ceiling. Below stretches of marine and landscape paintings, bits of scenery used in the production of "The Maqueredo" by the Academy Dramatic Club, masked the walls, and marking off a space for the spectators was a quiet little brick wall, running all about the room and broken at intervals by alternating white pillars and green latticed shafts. The guests were connected at intervals by white arches, and the whole was wreathed in Southern smilax.

Supper Served On Lawn.
The supper instead of being served on the Arcade as in past years, was served at small tables on the lawn adjoining the armory, beneath rows of colored lights, which blended with the gay gowns of the women strolling about to present a bewildering picture. The souvenirs were, for the girls, broad gold armlets, which held their programs, and for the men blue leather cigarette cases, with the seals of the two classes on one side and the Academy shield on the other. The guests were received by Mrs. G. H. Burrage, wife of the commandant of midshipmen, Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the chief of staff, the Navy, and Midshipman H. V. Broadford, president of the class of 1915, and the introductions were made by Midshipman G. H. Burrage.

Mrs. Burrage wore a gown of white silk, printed in pink flowers and carried one large American Beauty rose. Mrs. Burrage was crowned in black lace over white silk.

Mrs. Gen. and Mrs. George Barnett, held a small reception in one corner of the room. Mrs. Barnett wore a handsome gown of silver brocade, trimmed with wide bands of heavy silver lace. General and Mrs. Barnett were guests of Col. and Mrs. Ed. Kelly Cole, Colonel Cole, who spent the last few years in Washington, is now in command of the marine barracks at Annapolis. Mrs. Cole wore a gown of black silk and black lace.

Major General and Mrs. W. W. Worthen and Colonel and Mrs. Robert M. Thompson, were among the notables present, and other guests were Mrs. Miss Beatty, Mrs. E. N. Forster, Miss Lolla Gordon, daughter of Mrs. Barnett; Miss Roberta Wiley, Miss Katherine Harlow, Miss Constance Harlow, Miss Margaret Lauer, Miss Marie Carter, Miss Hilda Gage Hurley, Miss Mary Graham, Miss Marie Sims, John F. Vagstad, and Mrs. Ed. Wagoner. Miss Louise Clark, Miss Louise Fenet, Miss Dorothy Mason, Miss Dorothy Alshire, Captain and Mrs. Edward Eberle, Miss Margaret Fechteler, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Fechteler, who presented the colors to the winning company on Thursday; Mrs. George Cooper, Miss Marguerite Lewis, Miss Dorothy Dobyns, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Forster, Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas Kinkaid, Miss Esther Whiting, Miss Maxine Durant, Mr. and Mrs. Steffen, Mrs. Hamilton Bayley, Mr. and Mrs. G. Daw and Miss Daw, Countess Spotswood Mackin, Miss Marie Lyon, Miss Marie Tunstall, Miss Hannah McCormick, Thomas Edison, the distinguished inventor; Lieut. Robert Gatewood, Colonel Raybaud, military attaché of the Argentine embassy, and Mrs. Perkins, Henry Dickson, Congressman Sidney Mudd, William Payne Meredith and Sam Seay.

Gay Week For Academy.
The week which preceded this final festivity was gay in the extreme, one of the most interesting events being the class games on Thursday evening in Memorial Hall, when the dancers were limited to the members of the graduating class and their partners.

The German was led by Midshipman Adams, president of the graduating class, dancing with Miss Rhoda Pullam, daughter of the superintendent of the Naval Academy. The same evening a promenade concert and dance was given in the gymnasium for the under classmen and there was dancing almost every afternoon and evening, diversified by drills, baseball games, sailing parties, canoeing and a round of entertaining by the navy folk resident in Annapolis.

The garden party given on Wednesday afternoon by Admiral and Mrs. Pullam in conjunction with the dance was changed by force of the inclement weather to an indoor reception, but proved a brilliant and most enjoyable function. Colonel and Mrs. Robert M. Thompson, who spent the week in Annapolis on their honeymoon, the Everglades, entertained informally at tea every afternoon of their stay in compliment to the graduates. Indeed, they turned the houseboat over to the members of the class, making them and their friends welcome at any time. Colonel and Mrs. Thompson will go north tomorrow to open their cottage at Southampton, L. I., for the summer.

Yesterday the midshipmen embarked for their summer cruise on the U. S. S. Ohio, the U. S. S. Missouri, and the U. S. S. Wisconsin, comprising the practice squadron, and at dawn tomorrow they will start for the destination is the west coast via the Panama canal.

Smallpox Delays Start
Of James J. Hill's Yacht
NEW LONDON, Conn., June 6.—James J. Hill's steam yacht Wacousta, which winters here, had started Tuesday on her annual trip to the salmon fishing grounds along River St. John, Labrador, but her chief engineer, Maynard Bray, has smallpox and the yacht and her crew will be quarantined for a fortnight.

The Wacousta is anchored in mid-stream in the upper harbor. A physician visited the yacht this afternoon and vaccinated the entire crew of forty.

Mr. Hill is not on board the yacht. It has been his custom to go by rail to Montreal and with his party meet the Wacousta there and sail to the fishing grounds.

F-4 DISASTER MAY REMAIN UNSOLVED

Heavy Seas Have Pounded Submarine Into Unrecognizable Hulk, Is Belief.

Cause of the tragedy of the United States submarine F-4, sunk off Honolulu harbor with nineteen men, may never be known; heavy seas have pounded and wrenched her so that her death blow will be another naval mystery.

This was the opinion given by a high naval official, skilled in warship construction. It was stated that officials now fear that the vessel is in such condition from long submersion and battering of waves that it may be impossible to ascertain the cause of her death. It is feared that the hulk may not give a clue to prevent similar accidents in the future.

The latest report from Admiral Moore, commander of the Pearl harbor navy base, received today, said that the wrecking crew has at last succeeded in placing a mat over the conning tower to prevent further drifting in. But the hulk is known to contain great quantities of sand, seeping in through a great tear in the hull and a hole where the periscope was wrenched off. Many rivets have pulled out, and the wreck is said to be gaping with holes at other places caused both by the sea pounding the vessel has received since her last fatal dive and the wrenching received in lifting her with heavy cables.

Delegation Will Go to City Planning Meeting

Engineer Commissioner Charles W. Kutz, Richard B. Watrous, and William E. Shannon will leave Washington late today to attend the sixth national conference on city planning which will be held in Detroit this week.

Mr. Watrous, who is secretary of the American Civic Association, will represent the city in the conference on the evolution of Willow Tree alley from a typical slum to a playground for hundreds of children.

Farmer for 50 Years, Looks for Work at 69

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—T. E. Randle, sixty-nine years old, applied for a farm job in the movement started here to aid worthy unemployed persons finding work for them in the country.

Randle was accompanied by his wife, sixty-five, when he called at the office of Assistant Labor Commissioner Barrett to ask for information. He declared he can do as good a day's work as anybody and has had an experience of more than fifty years at farming in Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Missouri.

BROOKLAND PLANS FOR FOURTH OF JULY

Three Associations Will Hold Joint Celebration With Novel Parade.

Civic bodies in all parts of the District are perfecting plans for Fourth of July celebrations. A joint celebration by the Brookland, University Heights, and Rhode Island avenue suburban citizens' associations were discussed last night at a meeting of the joint committee of the three associations in Brookland.

Committee chairmen were appointed as follows: M. M. McLean, finance; Leo F. Stock, music; F. T. Howe, fireworks; T. J. Curran, athletics; J. E. Brown, public order and comfort; C. F. Judge, program; F. M. Hutchinson, E. C. Saltzman, A. A. Ormsby, William McCloskey, and D. H. Oertly, refreshments; F. T. Howe, T. J. Curran, and Frank Rosch, new features.

The Fourth of July committee of the Petworth Citizens' Association announced today that many new features will be added to the parade in Petworth this year. It is tentatively arranged that the parade will start at 8:45 o'clock. At the public school a novel program will be given in connection with the flag raising on the grounds. New features in illumination at night also will be provided.

Petworth citizens are taking a lively interest in arrangements for the big day. There will be friendly rivalry among the residents in the matter of house decorations.

Athletic sports will take place in Libby park in the afternoon, followed by patriotic exercises, picnic supper, and fireworks. The Forest Glen bank will furnish music.

Geodetic Steamer Is on Cruise of Lower River

The Coast and Geodetic Survey steamer Iais is making a cruise of the lower Potomac and Chesapeake bay today, and will return to Washington tonight before beginning her summer's work of charting the waters around the Chesapeake capes.

Interior changes will be made before the Iais will be ready for deep sea charting work, for which she was recently purchased. It will be fall before these changes will be made.

Rose 6 Inches Wide.

ONTARIO, Cal., June 6.—R. S. Hardie Bauch, a rose enthusiast, is displaying a bloom of the William Shean variety which measured six inches in diameter and nearly nineteen inches in circumference. The rose is perfectly formed and fragrant. Bauch declares that a fertilizer of rotted potato parings was responsible for the mammoth blossom.

MAHARAJAH'S STOLEN BOX IS RECOVERED

German Arrested Said to Have Made Confession—Contained Credit For $450,000.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 6.—Lorenzo von Arnim auf Kenedorff, who claims to be a relative of General von Arnim, of the German army, is in jail here, and the police declare he has confessed to the theft of the strongbox taken from the apartments of the Maharajah of Karpurthala in a Salt Lake hotel last night.

The Maharajah through the British ambassador in Washington had asked the State Department to help him find his valuables.

Von Arnim also revealed the hiding place of the box, which, with its contents, practically intact, is in the hands of the police. The box contained about $50 in foreign money and papers, including photographs in secret compartments.

Among the papers was a receipted bill for $2,266 from a New York hotel, a receipt for $7,000 of a private railway car, a letter of credit for $20,000 issued in Bombay and another for $30,000 issued in London.

Von Arnim was arrested Friday night at Ogden, Utah, where he attempted to exchange English for United States money.

Pastor Finds Diamond Studded Mushroom

PERU, Ind., June 6.—The Rev. Ambrose Bailey, of the First Baptist Church, returned from a trip in the woods with a basket of mushrooms, which his wife prepared for supper.

During the meal a six-year-old son, declaring that he had a stone in his mouth, took out a small diamond, finely cut. A jeweler said it was worth $50. It is believed that the gem was lost by some one and became fastened to the mushroom.

Surplus-Stocks Sale From Leading Mills and Manufacturers

Demonstrating the Wonderful BUYING and SELLING Power of Our Organization

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Perfect Merchandise at Lowest Possible Prices

Manufacturers throughout the United States had looked forward to a tremendous season's business among the large retailers, but same did not consummate, as you well know by the numerous failures of several of the largest stores who were driven to the wall by backward trade conditions. In anticipation of this big season's business, which was not forthcoming, the average manufacturer made up an overproduction of stock, which was left on his hands, and had to be unloaded regardless of cost. Knowing that this condition prevailed, we inserted the accompanying ad in one of this country's leading trade papers, "The Dry Goods Economist," with the result that we were overwhelmed with offers of merchandise at prices which, under ordinary conditions, would be impossible.

We Are Resolved to Eclipse the Business of Any Month of June in Our History

The entire store, every department, from the first floor to the fourth, swings eagerly and triumphantly into the spirit of the hour with merchandise bought at prices much less than regular, and which, beginning tomorrow, we will place on sale at prices showing the same proportionate savings to you.

Each Day Will Bring Forth New Offerings—WATCH THE DAILY PAPERS—It Will Pay You Well to Do So

NOTICE—No jobbers' stocks have received consideration. Manufacturers make a profit when they sell the jobber. We have eliminated this Middleman's Profit by dealing direct with the makers and mills; therefore insuring you Lowest Possible Cost and insuring you Lowest Possible Prices.
